

Why does it matter if I pick my child up early from camp?

We strongly discourage early departures. The end of the camp session is designed to wrap up the week and transition campers back into their daily routines. It is filled with debriefing conversations, picture signing, and other closing activities that are significant in the child's experience. If you must pick up your child early, please contact the office to discuss the most opportune time.

Why is there an Early Pick-up Charge?

Coordinating camper pick-ups prior to the end of the week creates extra work for Geneva's summer staff and office staff. We've hired additional staff to help with these situations without taking away from the experience for other campers.